AWFUL CALAMITY.

A Terrific Explosion in the Woolwich Arsenal.

Buildings Wrecked and Terrible Loss of Life-A Deadly Fusillade in the Rocket Manufactory - Panie Among Workmen and Many Trampled to Death.

Dondon, Sept. 24.—A terrific explosion has occurred in the rocket factory of the Woolwich arsenal, by which a large num-ber of persons were killed and wounded, and the building and those immediately surrounding it were badly wrecked. As far as can be learned at present, the disaster resulted from the mysterious explosion of one of a bunch of rockets, the sparks from which igniting others set them off, one after another, with lightning rapidity. A regular fusilade ensued, the missiles exploding in all directions with deafening detonations, resembling the of numerous batteries firing of artillery. The workmen became panic-stricken, and fled pre-cipitately from the building, knocking down one another in their mad haste to get out of the place. In this way many lost their lives by being trampled to death, while scores of others were either killed or wounded by the explosion of the rockets. Great excitement prevails in the vicinity of the explosion, and ambulances are rushing to and from the various hospitals in all directions loaded down with the dead and wounded. No definite estimate of the number killed and wounded can be given at the present time, as the continued explosions prevent the sending in of exploring parties.

The explosives caused a fearful destruction of property throughout the town and in the surrounding district. The fire was extinguished at noon, when the rockets ceased their explosions. Old soldiers de-clare the explosions of the rockets during the fire were as frightful as if occurring in actual seige. Two bodies of the victims have been found. Some of the war rockets were projected a distance of five miles. One of them went through the wall of the arsenal and another struck the artillery

The exploding rockets literally bombarded the town of Woolwich. Two houses have been completely wrecked, and explosions occurred in the infant school and several grocers' establishments.

FOUR BLIND RROTHERS.

The Happy and Useful Life of a Strangely Afflicted Family.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The four blind musical brothers of Unication reads more like the caption to a sie in the Arabian Nights than a simple statement of facts. A family of this singular description have, however, been living in a suburb of Wash ington. Uniontown is a little settlement that has grown up across the east branch of the Potomac, within easy reach of the navy yard. It is a sleepy, tumble-down village, whose chief claim to aristocracy is the nomenclature of the streets, which bear the name of every President to Buchanan. Its chief citizen is, perhaps, Frederick Douglass, who owns a fine country place near the river's bank. Some years ago a family moved into this village from Baltimore of the common name of Smith, but of a very extraordinary family make up. There were or had been twelve or fifteen, children, every one of whom, in regular progression, had been born blind. Of this numerous and singular progeny all who were born with sight died but one, a girl, and at present only five children are left, this girl and four blind brothers, named James, Ignatius, George and Alfred. They are all smart and happy, all are masters of some trade, and all are musical. When in a frolicsome mood each in turn will play on the family fiddle while the others dance. One of the brothers is quite an accomplished musician, and supports himself by giving lessons on the piano. The others play merely for recreation. Two are broom makers by trade, and make a broom which is famous through the neighborhood for its excellence. The remaining brother is a cabinet maker, with a special knack at coffins. The oldest of the brothers has a high reputation in Uniontown. Not only can he make the best broom in all that region and make the violin sing, but he is endowed with a wonderful acute sense of touch. It is said, for instance, that he can tell a five from a ten dollar bill by feeling the two notes. One of the brothers is married and has a large family. The sister is the wife of an elderly carpenter. They all live together with their widowed mother and seem to be a happy and affectionate household. Recently they have moved from the settlement some five miles into the country, but they frequent the village

AN OPEN SWITCH.

Thunderbolt Express Dashes Into the End of a Freight. AKRON, Ohio, Sept. 24.—A shocking accident occurred at half-past one o'clock at still to sell their brooms or provide a coffin

Talmadge, about four miles north of this city, on the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio Railroad. Freight train No. 33 pulled in on a side-track, and, supposing that the train behind them was their second section, did not close the switch. The train that followed was a thunderbolt express, with fully two hundred passengers aboard, and went crashing into the rear end of the freight at the rate of thirty miles per hour. When within about ten rods of the freight train Engineer John Ball, of the express, the oldest engineer on the road, saw the open switch. He reversed his engine, set the air-brakes, and then, with his fireman, William Nazer, jumped from his engine only a moment before the frightful collision.

Ball had a leg broken and was cut terribly on the head. His condition is critical. Nazer received a scalp wound and was otherwise bruised, but not dangerously. A. A. Stonehill and S. Waltman, brakemen on the freight, were in the caboose, and jumped just before the collision. Both were considerably hurt, Stonehill having the bones broken in one foot. The passenger were terribly shaken up, and some were seriously bruised, but none fatally hurt. The engine and tender were dashed to pieces and the baggage-car ruined, two other cars were telescoped and broken into fragments, and the loss will be fully $50,000 to the railroad company.

BEAUREGARD ON BUTLER. A Romance of the Great Rebellion

Now First Told. Boston, Sept. 24.—The New York World prints an interview with General Beauregard, in which that gentleman and soldier tells the following story of kindness done him by General Butler when the latter was in command at New Or-

I left home suddenly February 23, 1861, having resigned from the United States Corps of Engineers, on the call of the provisional government of the Confederacy, at Montgomery, Ala. I expected at that time to return in about a fortnight to command in Louisiana, where I had been stationed for many years. Instead, I was ordered to Charleston, S. C., thence to Manassas, thence to West Tennessee, etc., to the end of the war, remaining absent from home four years and three months. When I started from New Orleans Mrs. Beauregard was in very bad health and I was compelled to leave her with her own family to be taken care of; hence I was extremely anxious to return to be with her, but in war a soldier belongs first to his country and then to his family. Shortly after New Orleans was taken possession of by the Federals my wife and family-composed only of ladies, the gen tlemen having gone to the war-received an order from General Butler's chief quartermaster to vacate their house in forty eight hours, as it was to be occupied by Federal officers. An old friend of the family, Dr. Mercer, who was well acquainted with General Butler, went to him to remonstrate against such a proceeding and to explain the condition of Mrs. Beauregard's health. General Butler at once countermanded the order, which, he said, had been given without his approval. Moreover, he sent a guard to protect the house from further intrusion, but the ladies requested the guard to be withdrawn. which was done. The war progressed with variable results, while Mrs. Beauregard's health became worse and worst. As last, in the early spring of 1864, it became evident to her physician and her family that she had not long to live. Our good olfriend, Dr. Mercer, again went to Genera Butler to know if there were no possibility of my seeing once more the tender an loving wife from whom I had been so such denly and long separated? He imme diately turned to his desk, and with his characteristic promptness wrote an unconditional pass, which authorized me to enter his lines and to come to New Orleans where I could remain unmolested as long as circumstances required my presence there. That was a noble act, for which shall ever be grateful. It is doubtful, in my mind, whether many officers of the United States service would have been willing to assume such a responsibility without first referring the matter to the War Department at Washington. When I received the pass Charleston was threatened with another serious attack, and General Seymour of the United States Army was about to leave Jacksonville, Fla., on an expedition across North Florida, thence to the Gul! of Mexico, and I was organizing a force to check his march, which was done shortly after by Generals Finnigan and Colquitt, at the battle of Oulstee or Ocean Pond. I was thus placed in the painful dilemma of selecting between my duty as a commander and my affection as a husband. I declined the pass so generously tendered. Two weeks after, while my troops were in of Jacksonville, in which General Seymour had retreated after his defeat, I received and read by the dismal light of a camp-fire, the news of the death of one whom I loved dearer than life. We Described by an Eye-Witness—The Wound Not Dangerous.

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 24.—Frank McCannon, who was present at the shooting near Reed's pond, on the Shore line railroad, when Edward Gibbons was shot by Rensford Gratz, says the two men had had trouble before. Gratz came into the city and told Palmer, for whom Gibbons was driving a team, that he (Gibbons) was not doing the work he should. Wednesday Gibbons was late to supper, and after he had eaten he asked Gratz why he had been telling lies about him. Gratz re-plied that he had told no lies. "Yes, you have," said Gibbons. "I don't allow any man to call me a liar," said Gratz, who thereupon reached his hand in his pocket, pulled out a revolver and fired. McCannon and Gibbons were the only men in the crew who know Gratz. McCannon rushed toward Gratz, who pointed the revolver at his (McCannon's) breast, "and upon that," said McCannon, "I got out of the way. Gratz went into a corner of the room flourished his revolver, and said he would blow the brains out of the first man who touched him. Gratz was captured in the vicinity of Ellsworth by the officials of Hancock county. Gratz has been in this city for a few years past. He is a thickset man, and light complexioned and has light hair and sandy moustache. He i about 36 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches high and weighs 165 pounds. Gratz bought the revolver in this city Wednesday. H told several persons, it is said, that he should shoot Gibbons. The bullet has not yet been extracted from Gibbons, bu the wound is not considered dangerous This is the second shooting affair on the Short Line road within two weeks.

MURDERED IN CAMP.

Officers in Search of Thieves Commit

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sopt. 24.-A terrible tragedy is reported from the Choctaw Nation, in which two men were killed outright and several wounded. Some time ago a party of four men camped upon Big Creek for the purpose of hunting and fishing. They gave their names as Saddler, Tipton and the Gray brothers, and claimed to reside in the vicinity of Paris, Texas. Last Wednesday night the camp was raided by a posse searching for horse thieves, who asked the campers to surrender. The demand was refused and a fight ensued, during which Saddler and one of the Gray brothers were killed, being shot with pis-tols. Tipton and the elder Gray mounted their horses and escaped, going toward the mountains. It is said that the assail-ants plundered the camp, taking a lot of valuable personal effects.

CURED BY FAITH.

Another Alleged Case of Divine Doctoring.

The Strange Story Told By the Relatives and Friends of Lizzie Cronin-The Effects of a Sleigh-Ride Accident and the Effects of Piety Upon a Case of Pleurisy.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—A strange story is told by the relatives and friends of Miss Mary Lizzie Cronin, residing with her parents at 103 Bennington street, East Boston, who has been restored to comparative health without the aid of medicine. A visit to the young lady elicited the following statement: In the winter of 1880-1 Miss Cronin was enjoyings a sleigh ride with a party of friends, when from some unforseen accident she was thrown out, receiving what was at the time considered but slight bruises. The following October she was taken violently sick with pains in the back and headaches, which were at times excruciating. After suffering for some days a physician was called. who pronounced it a case of typhoid fever, combined with inflammation and obstruction of the bowels and pleurisy. The sufferer remained in this condition for some four months, suffering the most intense agony without any intermission, and at the same time tossing on her bed night and day without closing her eyes. Immediately after taking to her bed a complete numbness took possession of her lower extremities, and she lost all control of her limbs. During the winter of 1881, and until the following February, there was no cessation from the terrible torture, nor, indeed, up to some three weeks ago, when a novena to Our Lady of Perpetual Help was tried. The result was wonderful, and two weeks ago another novena was tried. Saturday Miss Cronin was able to walk without help and pain, and her physicians pronounce the cure com-

HOADLY'S HEALTH.

Rumors Set at Rest A Fitting Rebuke to Republican Levity.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 24.—"I notice in the Globe what purports to be a special from Philadelphia to the effect that Judge Hoadly's condition is alarming, and that there are fears among his friends that he may not ultimately recover. I do not know the source from whence you obtain your information, but do know that there is not the slightest foundation for the rumor. The Democratic State Convention has a letter from Judge Hoadly himself, in which he speaks encouragingly of his condition, and says that his physician defast, was not properly flagged. clares that he will be able to return to Ohio next week

"I want to call the Globe's attention to the fact that in the campaign of 1881, when President Garfield was stricken down by the shot of an assassin, the Democrats considerately refused to precipitate an open war between the two great political parties in Ohio while the President's fate was balancing between life and death. In this campaign there can be no question but that Judge Hoadly has been very sick, but it is an act of Providence for which neither the Judge nor the Democratic party is responsible, and yet our Republican friends seem to think that the unfor tunate sickness of Judge Hoadly is a subject fit for ridicule, and out of which they can extract campaign capital. The Democratic party asks for no sympathy and needs none in this fight, because it is going to win; but common decency, I should think, would lead the Republican press and speakers to accord at least some show of respect to a sick man. "D. C. BALLENTINE, "Secretary Democratic State Central Committee.

Caught at the Crossing. DECATUR, Ill., Sept. 24.—Samuel P Davis, a farmer on his way homeward with his wife and two children accompanying him, attempted to cross the track of the Indianapolis, Bloomington and Western Railway, when a freight train, going at the rate of fifteen miles an hour, came down the hill and threw the wagon and its occupants off the track into the ditch. Mrs. Davis and one of the children were knocked senseless, and the other child and the farmer were badly stunned and bruised. All were severely hurt, but none fatally. It was a miraculous escape from instant death. One child may die. The wagon was totally wrecked, but the horses escaped. Davis says that no signal was sounded by the engine.

Thrown From a Carriage.

GREENVILLE, Ill., Sept. 24.—Mrs. L. S Brooks, residing three miles in the country, and her mother, Mrs. McMillan, of Fairport, N. Y., while coming to town in the morning, met with a serious accident. Their horse became frightened at an empty barrel and ran away, throwing the ladies and two children with them violently to the ground. Mrs. Brooks had several ribs broken, and her mother was severely cut and bruised, but, strange to say, the children were uninjured. The carriage was smashed to smithereens. The ladies were taken home.

A Granary Burned.

WACO, Tex., Sept. 24.—The granary of Professor Samuel P. Wright, situated about two miles from this city, was destroyed by fire in the afternoon. His entire crop had been harvested and the insurance was comparatively small. The figures can not be obtained. The Waco Fire Department started for the scene of the conflagration, but upon discovering that it was outside the city limits abandoned the trip. Mr. Wright was badly burned about the face and head.

A Brakeman's Fate.

VIRDEN, Ill., Sept. 24.—While the southbound way freight was switching in the yards at this place at noon. Archi-bald Young, aged about twenty years, while making a coupling, caught his foot in a frog, the train lingered until 2:30 p. m. His parents reside in Colorado Springs, Col. The remains will be taken to Springfield.

SLOSSON STRIKES BACK.

Giving the Lie to Sexton and Offering to Play Anybody.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 24.—George F. Slosson says that in January last he offered to play both Schaefer and Sexten, at balk line and cushion, and deposited a forfeit with the Clipper, but neither no-ticed it. He challenged Vignaux, who sneaked out of the country without replying. He added: "The statement that the Vignaux challenge would arrive on the 14th is a lie. I defy Sexton to show where the rule give the challenge party the right to name the place of playing. As to Sexton's statement that Schaefer has had no practice at the balk-line game, the flie is given to it by reports of his games in the newspapers. Sexton first defied me, and it was his place to put up a deposit. I will give him 200 in 1,000 for the championship in the balk-line game, and toss for choice of tables, or will give him 75 in 600, cushion caroms, myself to name table and cushion, thirty days from the date of acceptance, in New York, for $500 a side. Sexton should read the rules at balk-line billiards before he sets himself as authority. Schaefer has sneaked out of playing me, and I am convinced that the championship match in Paris between Schaefer and Vignaux was a hippodrome, gotten up to advertise a billiard table company by which Sexton, Schaefer and Vignaux were engaged by the year. In order to force him out, if Sexton means business, let him call on David Bier, Vice-President of the United States Billiard Company, who represents me fully." Slosson left for Chicago in the evening.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

The Smash-up on the Ohio & Mississippi Line.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 24.—A special to the Journal gives very meager particulars of the accident on the Ohio & Mississippi road, west of Seymour, Sunday night. Two passenger trains had been detained at this town by a freight wreck, and in going out the rear train ran into the former one, smashing the sleeper and rear coach and dangerously injuring a number of passengers who were extricated from the wreck by the trainmen cutting away the debris with axes. The names of but few are known. J. W. Taylor, of Buckville, Ky., had both legs broken, his wife was fatally hurt internally, their little girl badly bruised, and Mrs. Taylor's father, Wiley Dickens, had a leg broken. S. H. Vinson, of Mississippi, had a leg broken, and several others were badly hurt. Larkins Phepps, the engineer of the rear train, was fatally injured. A number of other passengers were hurt, but nobody was killed outright, so far as is known. The accident is attributed to the fact that

LORD COLERIDGE AT NIAG-

A Flying Trip From Buffalo to the Great Cataract.

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 24.—Lord Chief Justice Coleridge and accompanying guests left Buffalo at 10 o'clock in the morning on a special train by the New York Central train for Lewiston, where they viewed the Niagara River, and arrived here at a quarter after 11, intending to make only a flying visit. Their time being limited, it was previously arranged to show his lordship as much of Niagara scenery as was possible in a few hours. Four of Brundage's coaches were in waiting at the station, and the distinguished party were driven to Prospect Park, Goat Island, Whirlpool Rapids, Table Rock, and the Burning Springs. The freedom of all points of interest was accorded them. His Lordship did not go behind the great sheet of water, but was evidently deeply impressed with the grand scenery. The party were escorted by United States Consul Major James T. Low, and nothing was wanting to make their trip enjoyable. They returned to Buffalo at forty minutes after 5 this evening in the same special train by which they came down.

Killed by the Cars.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 24.—A fatal accident occured on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad, about four miles from this city. As the incoming passenger train was rounding a curve a woman was seen walking ahead on the track. The engineer gave the alarm signal and reversed the engine, but the woman paid no attention, and was struck by the engine and her body terribly mangled. She was killed instantly, and portions of her entrails were on the machinery of the engine when it reached this city. The lady proved to be Mrs. Lucy Crow, 60 years of age. She was hard of hearing, and was not aware of the danger until too late. Coroner Carey held an inquest, and returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts, exonerating the railroad employes from all blame.

A Dose of Strychnine. PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 24.—William Ream-er, a well-to-do farmer living at Brimfield, near here, committed suicide by taking strychnine. He had attempted to embark in several business enterprises of late, his actions leading to the belief that he was deranged. He leaves a wife and several children.

A Barn and Contents Destroyed. MARSHALL, Mo., Sept. 24.—The barn, grain and hay, farming machinery and two fine horses of John Tracy, a farmer of the northwestern part of this county, were destroyed by fire about 2 o'clock in the morning. Loss, $2,500; insurance, $1,000. It is a supposed case of incendiarism.

Fatally Scalded.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Sept. 24 .- In Monroe, Sevier county, a little girl named Bates was climbing on a chair when she slipped and fell back into a kettle of boiling water, scalding her so severely that she died after forty hours of great suffering.

Coal Trains Wrecked.

READING, Pa., Sept. 24.—Early Saturday morning a Philadelphia and Reading Railroad coal train was wrecked near Royer's Ford and come cars thrown off the track and damed. Traffic was delayed several hours. No one hurt.

IRELAND.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The preparations making for the Convention of the Irish Nationalists' meeting at Leeds indicate the greatest demonstration ever held. Under the advice of Mr. Parnell a programme of moderation is proposed. A Committee of Scrutiny of Delegates has decided to reject all delegates of American lodges associated with Rossa. Eighty American delegates are expected.

Germany makes it the occasion of a great festival of exceptional magnitude and splen-All the German sovereigns dor. and princes will be present, excepting the King of Wurtemburg, who is prevented from attending by ill health. There will be 300 veteran clubs and 100 choral societies, and all the Turner clubs in the Empire will be represented. Prince Bismarck writes that the doctors forbid his presence, owing to his state of health.

HAYTI.

PORT AU PRINCE, Sept. 24.- A severe battle is reported between the Government troops and the insurgents in Hayti. Jacmel and Jeremie are in the hands of the insurgents. President Solomon is anxious to leave the Island, but is prevented from doing so by his followers, who believe he has $500,000 belonging to the Government on deposit in London

MOONSHINER MURDERED.

Another Added to the Long List of Carolina Crimes.

Morgantown, N. C., Sept. 24.—One Wilburn Buff, a reputed moonshiner, went to the distillery of Moulton Ramsey to notify him that he was wanted at Burke Court, which is in session, to testify in some suit. While at the distillery, Buff charged Moulton with having given the revenue officers information about his illegal practices. A quarrel ensued. The men made friends to all appearance, however, and walked off down the road together. Suddenly, without a word of warning, Buff drew a pistol and shot Ramsey through the heart, killing him instantly. Buff is yet at large, and the wild nature of the country will render capture almost impossible, if he secretes himself in the ravines. A posse is in pursuit of him, and $500 reward is offered by the State and county of Burke for his cap-

ANOTHER RATE WAR.

The Monon Line Makes an Aggressive

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—The "Monon" route announced that they would open heir air-line to Indianapolis with a $1 rate. The first through train for Indiana polis will leave at 7:55 p. m. and will arrive in Indianopolis at 3:10 a.m., one hour in advance of other trains. The $1 rate to Indianapolis was made, as Col. Jones, of the "Monon" route, said, to let the Pan-handle people see that the "Monon" was fired of being on the defensive. This will make the rate to Cincinnati $4.50; to Dayton $4.30; to Springfield, $5.00; to Urbana, $5.00 and to Columbus, $6.30, a decided cut to all Pan-handle points. The Indianapolis cut must necessarily bring several other lines into the fight, and there is no telling where the war will trains, one following the other, collided near Huntsville, Mo., on the Wabash Railroad, while going around a curve. The train in front checked up, while the one behind increased her speed about the same time, running into the one in front, upsetting eight loaded cars, demolishing the cars and contents and one engine. No lives were lost.

Murderer Caught.

BERNVILLE, Ark., Sept. 24.—Prince Webb, a notorious bandit and desperado, has been captured and will be tried for the nurder of his brother-in-law, Evans, three years ago. His sister, the widow of the murdered man, has been hunting him with detective skill since the tragedy, and wears that he shall hang.

Not so Bad as First Supposed.

MITCHELL, Ind., Sept. 24.—Phipps, the engineer, who was so badly injured in the wreck near Seymour, is still alive, though there is little hope for his recovery. The child Taylor is also still living, though its skull is badly fractured.

Will Face His Accusers.

Mandan, Dak., Sept. 24.—Ira C. Bellows, brother of Mayor Bellows, and one of the ex-clerks of the Water Register's office in New York, charged with complice ity in water rent frauds, leaves for Got ham to face his accusers. Crushed to Death.

Leading Editorials After the Manner of the Bulgeville Beacon, Chicago News.

Monday-The genial Mr. John Cutts got out the first number of his paper, the Bulge, to-day. He has just fitted up an elegant office in the rear room of Mr. Codwhollopper's basement. John is a whole-souled fellow and a rising young journalist. We wish him success. There is room enough for two papers in Bulgeville. We believe in live and let live. John, here is our

Tuesday-The editor of the Bulge says his circulation is greater than that of any paper in the county. Mr. Cutts is mistaken. We beg to inform him that the Beacon has more subscribers here in the village than any other paper has in the whole township.

Wednesday—The Bulge man claims that his sheet is the best advertising medium in the county. The Bulge man is too fresh. We'll bet him $5—and we Bulgeville than he has in the whole county. Now, Mr. Bulge, put up or shut up. Thursday-The so-called editor of the little Toot-horn, published around in the alley, says his circulation has doubled in two days. Well, it only took one subscriber to do that. The Toot-horn man ought to know that the folks here can see through his thin claims.

Friday—That pied hand-bill that comes sneaking out of a hole in the ground in the alley claims to do better job work than anybody in Blossom county. The editor of the venal 7x9 has more gall than a sage hen. Somebody ought to tell him the fool-killer is coming, just to see him dodge in his underground den in the alley.
Saturday—When the unconscionable liar who runs the hell-box around in the back alley says he he has done more job work this week than the Beacon has done in a month, he knows he lies like a horse-thief. Talk is cheap, but if he thinks he can bluff us out he's made a big mistake. The Beacon is a fearless and independent journal, and says what it means. We heard before Jack Cutts came to Bulgeville that he was a scoundrel who didn't know the truth from a hole in the ground. Now we believe it. human suffering result from derangement of the stomach, bowels, and liver. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS act directly upon these organs, and are especially designed to cure the diseases caused by their derangement, including Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Dysentery, and a host of other ailments, for all of which they are a safe, sure, prompt, and pleasant remedy. The extensive use of these PILLS by eminent physicians in regular practice, shows unmistakably the estimation in which they are held by the medical profession.

These PILLs are compounded of vegetable substances only, and are absolutely free from calomel or any other injurious ingredient.

A Sufferer from Headache writes: "AVER'S PILLS are invaluable to me, and are my constant companion. I have been a severe sufferer from Headache, and your PILLS are the only thing I could look to for relief. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain. They are the most effective and the easiest physic I have ever found. It is a pleasure to me to speak in their praise, and I always do so when occasion offers.
